A PROGRAMME FOR LEGAL SPECIALISTS WHO WANT TO UPDATE AND DEEPEN THEIR UNDERSTANDING OF FOOTBALL LAW

FORWORD FROM THE UEFA PRESIDENT

My whole professional life has been devoted to law and football – they are my work, but also my passion. More than ever, I value and appreciate how vital law is to football, especially in the constantly evolving and complex world of this wonderful sport.

As a key element of our unique suite of educational initiatives, the UEFA Football Law Programme seeks to address these challenges. By bringing together the various stakeholders at different levels of European football, the course aims to foster an open dialogue, creating an optimal environment for further development and protection of the game, and achieve a balance that works for everyone.

In this way, you can help make all our football associations more efficient, generate awareness of the specific challenges posed by football law and ensure the long-term health of the game in Europe.

UEFA Football Law Programme (UEFA FLP)

A programme for legal specialists who want to update and deepen their understanding of football law

The UEFA Football Law Programme (FLP) comprises four week-long sessions that address key issues of football law. Designed and run by UEFA in close collaboration with internationally renowned academic experts and practitioners, the programme is intended for legal specialists who need insight into the most recent developments in football law while broadening their understanding of the issues. To encourage the exchange of ideas and opinions, the UEFA FLP is open to a wide range of participants with different backgrounds and from a variety of organisations.

On completing the UEFA FLP, graduates will have:

- a deeper knowledge of football law;
- a better understanding of the latest jurisprudence;
- experience of presenting in front of the CAS;
- a strong network of legal specialists in football.

Testimonials

“The UEFA FLP is an incredible programme for anyone who wants to learn and deepen their knowledge of football law. It has the best speakers, who offer practical perspectives on the subjects but are also connected to universities and contribute in-depth academic content. Not forgetting the endless opportunities for networking. It has been an amazing experience which benefited my daily work at the Portuguese Football Federation. I highly recommend it!”

■ Marta Cruz, Head of the Legal department, Portuguese Football Federation

“The FLP far exceeded my expectations of a practical and specialised course in sports law. In addition to an excellent programme at a high level, in which the content is presented by proven experts, I met exceptional people, both professionally and in terms of character. As a club lawyer, I still benefit greatly from the knowledge I acquired and the broad network I built up. The programme was an absolute enrichment for me and can be highly recommended to every ambitious club lawyer.”

■ Tarek Brauer, Vice-President of Legal and Human Resources, member of the board, SV Werder Bremen

“If you want to gain a 360-degree perspective on football law and broaden your knowledge, this programme is an excellent opportunity, plus you’ll feel chosen with the network it provides. Being a student again after a long break in such a friendly atmosphere encouraged each of us to be more open-minded and exchange ideas. In this specific area of law, not only carefully selected lecturers, but also your classmates will ensure you can improve beyond your expectations.”

Workload and assessment

The total amount of work necessary to complete the UEFA FLP is estimated to be around 250 hours, comprising approximately 20 days of face-to-face seminars, preparatory readings for every session, preparation of case studies and research for the oral exam during the last session.

There will be three forms of assessment:

- Class attendance and participation;
- Practical case studies and individual presentations;
- Oral exam.

Academic certification

Programme graduates will receive a certificate of advanced study in football law (CAS, worth 10 ECTS credits) from Kadir Has University in cooperation with the faculty of law of the University of Rijeka, Ca' Foscari University of Venice and UEFA.

Programme fees

- €7,900, including all programme materials, lunches and coffee breaks during each session;
- Please note this fee does not include travel and accommodation;
- Costs are covered by UEFA for representatives of its member associations.

Application process

Candidates must complete the application form on UEFAAcademy.com and submit it online along with a CV and a letter of recommendation from an employer (related to sport and/or law) by the application deadline of 30 May 2021.

The applications will be reviewed by UEFA FLP applications committee and a final decision on the participants accepted for the programme will be taken by the end of June 2021.

To be eligible, applicants must:

- work in the legal department of a UEFA member association;
- hold a legal position in a football club, players' union, league or Confederation; or
- work in a law firm that handles football cases.

Applicants must also prove that they have a good command of English (both spoken and written).

Please note that the UEFA FLP is designed primarily for people who have not attended a programme on football law in the past.

A WORD FROM THE PROGRAMME DIRECTORS

“ Given the complexity of the legal topics in football, it is important for all members of the football family to cooperate and understand their respective positions to improve the current situation. What you will mostly gain from the UEFA FLP is this stakeholder knowledge, as well as the tools you need to improve cooperation. By welcoming participants from a variety of backgrounds and organisations, this programme fosters such collaboration in your daily work. ”

- Angelo Rigopoulos, UEFA Managing Director of Integrity and Regulatory
- Michele Bernasconi, UEFA Legal Advisor, CAS Arbitrator
