CFM Open edition – application criteria

Application process

To apply for the CFM Open edition, applicants must complete the online application form available at <https://uefaacademy.com/courses/cfm/> and submit it along with a CV, short personal video and an electronic passport-sized photo by the 30th April 2023.

The video should be no longer than three minutes. It should introduce the applicant and their background, including previous work experience and academic qualifications, together with their motivation for applying. This video does not need to be of professional quality and can be filmed using a phone or computer.

Applications will be reviewed by UEFA Academy and IDHEAP (University of Lausanne) during the month of May 2023. Zoom interviews may be requested for some participants. Successful applicants will be informed of their acceptance by the end of May 2023.

Application criteria

To be eligible for the CFM Open edition, applicants must meet the following requirements:

- Fluency in English (in both speaking and writing)
- University degree
- At least two year's work experience
- A strong connection to a football-related organisation

A strong connection means having access to the internal information about the operations and resources of an organisation in order to be able to carry out a full analysis for the CFM assignment.
